

France and England soccer fans unite to sing 'La Marseillaise'

It's all been stage-managed to a degree: some of the French players aren't singing; and 'RIP La France' – as one placard proclaims – seems a monumentally inappropriate message in the circumstances. But still .. a glorious, fleeting, powerful moment of Anglo-French solidarity before the kick-off of last night's soccer friendly between the two countries.

Vive La France! Solidarité entre nous, citoyens européens et du monde entier!

http://www.theguardian.com/world/video/2015/nov/17/france-and-england-fans-unite-to-sing-la-marseillaise-video?CMP=share_btn_fb